

INSPIRATION THROUGH CHARITY

At TMD, we believe charity is a powerful force of inspiration and unity—one that drives true heroes and leaders to inspire others through their courage, effort, skill, ingenuity, compassion, and sacrifice.

The children of today need to become the heroes and leaders of tomorrow, but too often they are surrounded by poverty, tragedy, and despair. By partnering with church and community leaders, organizations and charities, TMD and The New York City Captain's Endowment Association want to put a smile on the faces of our children and local heroes, let them know they are appreciated, and inspire them and others with the gift of a Heroes and Legends Bed™:

We believe that the more someone gives away, the more all of us get back. That's why we are committed to giving Beds away every month - and hope to inspire others to do the same. Imagine a world where all organizations give back to their communities .... With your help, we can turn that dream into a reality.
